Ballista!

Ballista - ancient military device for hurling stones!

Your objective is to build a ballista and then battle it out with your opponents defeating all that stands before you!

The Ballista! event runs in three stages:

Stage 1: Planning & Purchasing

During this stage plans are drawn up, challenges tackled and equipment stockpiled.

Stage 2: Constructing & Testing your Ballista

Teams construct a ballista and build their defences. There is time to test and modify their ballista before the final stage...

Stage 3: The Endgame!

Teams take it in turn to fire upon opponents' fortified positions. If your fortified village is destroyed your team is eliminated from the duel. Let the battle commence!

This is a fun, competitive, team activity. It will appeal to a practically-minded audience who will enjoy the challenge and teamwork involved in building and improving their prototype.

TEAM LEARNING: develop an innovative approach, find the solution as a group, get to know the other team members and create a team spirit.

"I truly loved working with you. Everything was organised very professionally and you have succeeded in creating a good atmosphere which captured the team's attention from the off-set."
